

Sealing Equipment Products Company, Inc.

is a manufacturer with a proven tradition of providing the highest quality fluid sealing products available in the market place. We are totally committed to delivering excellent customer service. The dedicated associates that work here have forged our success. We operate one of the largest and most advanced state-of-the-art fluid sealing facilities in the industry and are driven to satisfy you. We continue to grow and expand our product line to better serve our customers. In 1998, we moved into our new manufacturing facility located in Alabaster, Alabama. This 117,000 plus square foot plant allowed us to double our manufacturing capability. In 2001, we purchased certain assets of a Charleston, South Carolina based company and further expanded our line with products such as Pyrosleeve[®] (fire sleeving) and many other offerings. We are very proud to be certified to ISO Standards and we are committed to the concept of total quality management. While we are a manufacturer of quality fluid sealing products, our only objective is to provide you with QUALITY SOLUTIONS. So in this complex world of fluid sealing you will find it very simple and easy to do business with Sealing Equipment Products Company, Inc.
